Fossil Rim

Glen Rose, Texas — October 17 & 18, 2008

Roy Toft

Your instructor, Roy Toft, is a professional photographer dedicated to documenting our natural world for future generations. He is an accomplished conservation photographer, with a background in wildlife and conservation biology. Roy was awarded this years Gerald Durrell award for Endangered Species in this years BBC Wildlife Photographer of the Year. His images have been featured in National Geographic, Smithsonian, Audubon, Wildlife Conservation, Discover magazines and other notable publications.

Come and Discover Fossil Rim, where you can see animals living in their near natural environment. The 1800 acres of open spaces lets you interact with deer, rhinos, giraffes and other wildlife. This is a 2-1/2 hour guided tour in open air vans traveling through a large portion of the regular touring route, and also the tour goes into the Captive Breeding facilities for Cheetahs, Black Rhinos, wolves, coati and others which is restricted to drive through guests.
